After the War

When the foolish war is ended and the sword is laid aside, and the fallen men are blended with the soil on which they died, will were before the scrap, will they hunt for trouble, caring for the outcome not a rap? Will the outcome not a rap? monarchs and the colonels, having seen that war's a frost, having summed up in their journals will they milder be or bolder, will they milder be or bolder, will they still be out for gore, with a chip on every shoulder and a bulldog by the door? Well, methinks they will be willing, being sick of blood and tears, to postpone all further killing for at least a hundred years. For they'll all be so disgusted and so weary and so sore, and their bank accounts so busted, they'll consider war a bore. But some men are great.

G. W. U. STUDENT YEAR BOOK WILL BE REVIVED

George Cooper to Be Editor and H. H. Dutton Business Manager of the Cherry Tree.

The Cherry Tree, student year book at George Washington Univedsity, which was discontinued last year, will be revived this year. Dr. William Carl Ruediger, dean of Teachers' College and chairman of the faculty committee on student publications, has sanctioned its issuance and has announced the appointment of George Cooper as editor and H. H. Dutton as business manager. The Cherry Tree was discontinued last year because of the inability to find an editor and business manager who would give bond to insure the financial success of the publication, a requirement imposed by the faculty. In its stead three separate year books were issued-The Caduceus, by the medical school; the Periscope, by the medical school: the Periscope, by the department of arts and sciences, and Res Gestae, by the law school.

Both students and faculty members saw the economic waste of issuing three separate year books, none of which was so elaborate as the Cherry Tree, so it was decided this year to put under one cover the literary product of all the classes at the university. George Cooper, the editor, is president of the sophomore class in Columbian College and is a member of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity. He had some experience on the Western, student publication at Western High School.

Before any member of her family had been injured.

When Rosin leaped from a window on the second floor of the building he landed on a bread box and injured his chest. Then he pounded on the door of Mrs. Hall's house, aroused the occupants and started down 35th street sereaming at the top of his voice. He met Policeman Kuehling, shouted that a colored woman was being burned to death, and continued his journey to Georgetown University Hospital.

Sparks from the burning house set fire to the house of Mrs. Chambers, 2000 35th street, and did slight damage. The buildings occupied by the grocer and Mrs. Hall were practically destroyed, and very little of the stock in the store was saved. The police estimated the damage at $2,000.
